

span

by: kinsey johnson

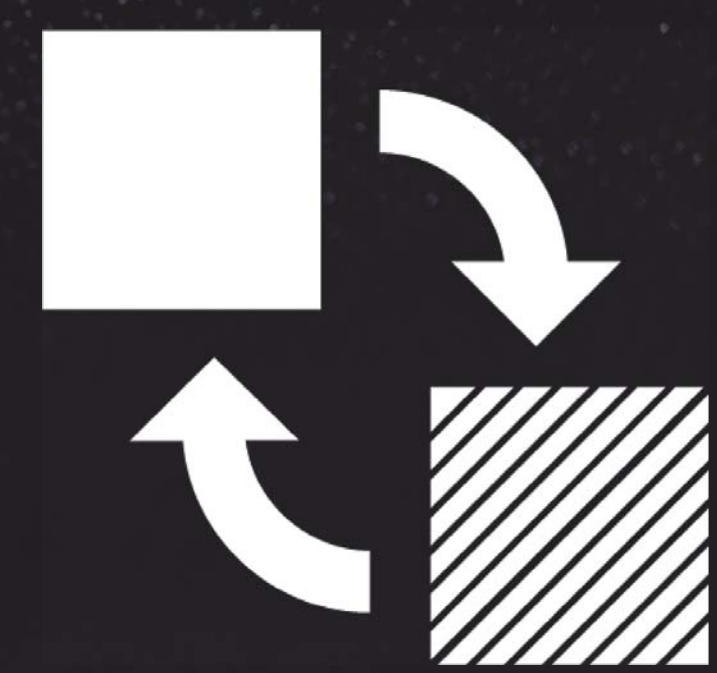

Collaboration with James Tuttle & Ching-Lu Chueh University of Oregon - Product Design kinseyj@uoregon.edu

suspended fabric
seat increases
air flow & blood
circulation

simplified engineering
minimizes component
failure

slide in and out
replacement parts,
no tools required

opens doors
to alternative
restraint designs

adaptable to fit a variety of
configurations